

ALBANY PARK THEATER PROJECT SEEKS COMPANY MANAGER/TECH CREWPERSON

Part Time

Albany Park Theater Project is a multiethnic, ensemble-based theater company of teens and young adults. APTP creates original performance works based on the real-life stories of immigrant and working-class Americans.

APTP seeks a part-time company manager and tech crewperson for work on its new production, Aquí Estoy. Throughout rehearsals, the company manager will shop weekly for food for youth ensemble members, will be responsible for maintaining the rehearsal space (includes some cleaning), and will coordinate meals on occasional full-day rehearsals and during tech. During the run of the show (December 7 to February 2, Friday and Saturday night performances), responsibilities will expand to include running lights and sound, coordinating company dinners before performances, and costume laundry (drop off and pick up at laundromat and dry cleaner).

The position will pay $10 per hour. Minimum 10 hours/week guaranteed, longer hours during technical rehearsal period (November 26 – December 6).

We will teach you what you need to know. You need to bring with you a positive attitude, great energy, a flexible schedule, reliability, and the ability to learn quickly. You must also be available for the entire duration of the production (through February 2, including weekend following Thanksgiving), and you must have your own car and a drivers license (we'll reimburse your mileage).

To apply, please send a resume or letter that let's us know who you are and what you do to:
